

ARKANSAS DRUG COURTS

REPORT TO THE EIGHTY-NINTH ARKANSAS GENERAL ASSEMBLY

PROVIDED BY THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS

KARI E. POWERS

STATE DRUG COURT COORDINATOR

Why Drug Courts?

- A Drug Court is a judicial intervention process in a criminal felony case that integrates alcohol and other drug treatment services with justice system case processing.
- It is a treatment program that is supervised and monitored by the criminal justice system.
- Drug Courts are a proven cost-effective method for diverting offenders from incarceration in prisons.
- They lower the recidivism rate of offenders when compared to either incarceration or probation.
- They allow offenders to remain in their communities, to support their families and to pay taxes.

Drug Courts Nationally

- Drug Courts Save Money- as much as $27 for every $1 invested.<sup>1</sup>
- Drug Courts Cut Crime- 75% of Drug Court graduates remain arrest free.<sup>2</sup>

Research shows Drug Courts are the most successful and cost effective program for dealing with drug-addicted offenders in our criminal justice system. Drug Courts save money when considering direct and measurable offsets such as reduced re-arrests, law enforcement contacts, court hearings, and the use of jail or prison beds. Drug Courts provide additional benefits such as reduced foster care placement and health care utilization.

- In 2009, Drug Courts throughout the U.S. saved taxpayers $8.3 billion in federal and state funding.<sup>3</sup> These cost savings are realized within the same budget year.
- A 2011 U.S. Governmental Accountability Office study report found that Drug Courts save at least $6,000 per participant.<sup>4</sup>

Drug Courts work better than jail or prison, better than probation alone, and better than treatment alone.

- Drug Courts reduce crime by as much as 58%.<sup>5</sup>

Arkansas Substance Abuse/Addiction and Crime

- In 2011, Arkansas had over 13,000 arrests for controlled substances violations.<sup>6</sup>
- In 2012, the top criminal offense for admissions to the Arkansas Department of Corrections was for controlled substances/narcotics violations.<sup>7</sup>
- The rates of unmet drug treatment need for adolescents were among the highest in the nation.<sup>8</sup>
- 1 in 4 adults in Arkansas between the ages of 18-25 report smoking marijuana during the past year.<sup>9</sup>
- Rates of methamphetamine use in Arkansas are higher than the national average.<sup>10</sup>
- 1 in 10 Arkansans between 18-25 reported use/abuse of illicit drugs or prescription drugs in the past 30 days.<sup>11</sup>

Current Status of Arkansas Drug Courts

- Specialty court programs employ a problem-solving approach with the judge supervising a treatment plan for a defendant that is designed and implemented by a team of court staff and health professionals. Examples include "drug courts," "mental health courts," "veterans' courts," "DWI courts," "Hope courts," "smarter sentencing courts," and "swift courts." Specialty dockets or programs may be established within a subject-matter division of a circuit court if they are described in the circuit's administrative plan and approved by the Supreme Court.<sup>12</sup>

- As of July 2013, there are 79 specialty courts in the state. These specialty courts include 42 adult drug courts, 13 juvenile drug courts, 9 DWI courts, 5 swift courts, 3 veterans drug courts, 1 Hope court, 4 domestic violence courts, 2 mental health courts, 1 smarter sentencing court and 1 misdemeanor drug court.<sup>13</sup>
  - The Hope, smarter sentencing and swift courts incorporate incentives and sanctions, random frequent drug testing, team coordination similar to drug courts but without a focus on the treatment component of supervision.
  - Drug courts, DWI courts, veterans' courts, domestic violence courts and mental health courts all utilize treatment components within the supervision of participants that focus on their special component (i.e. veterans treatment focuses on needs specific to veterans, domestic violence court treatment focuses on domestic violence issues, etc.)
- The adult drug court programs have over 2,817 active participants.<sup>14</sup>
- Since 2001, 967 people have graduated from Arkansas drug courts.<sup>15</sup>
- 90% of drug court participant drug tests were negative for controlled/illicit substances compared to 64% of probation/parole offenders.<sup>16</sup>
- As of July 2013, there were 45 males and 20 females in the DCC Drug Court Short-Term Residential Treatment Centers.<sup>17</sup>

Return on Investment in Drug Courts

- Incarceration: Potential incarceration cost savings or cost avoidance for adult offenders diverted from state prisons is about approximately 45 million per year. Fiscal 2012 incarceration costs are $61.83 (ADC) per person per day and $58.21 (DCC) per person per day, and drug court costs are $14.40 per person per day.<sup>18</sup>
- Probation/Parole: Initially, drug courts are more expensive than regular probation. However, due to the higher recidivism rate for probation and parole, savings result in the second year. Drug court graduate recidivism rate is 7.5% compared to probation at 20.8% and parole at 25.2%.<sup>19</sup>

Arkansas' Commitment to Drug Courts

- Since 2001, drug courts have continued to grow and develop into solid evidence based programs statewide.
- This development was due in part to legislative adoption of drug courts with the 2007 passage of Act 1022. The General Assembly enacted this legislation to help ensure the coordination and allocation of treatment court funding, establishment of the Division of Drug Court Programs, provide program criteria and provisions as well as program support.<sup>20</sup>
- In 2011, Act 570 was adopted to further establish the use of evidence based practices, validated risk/assessment tools and a focus on higher risk offenders.<sup>21</sup>
- In 2013, the Department of Community Correction and the Division of Drug Court Programs partnered to meet the data collection and program evaluation mandates within the Arkansas Drug Court Act statutes. DCC conducted its most comprehensive performance evaluation study on drug courts to date and results are expected to be published this year. Following the completion and publication of the DCC Drug Court Evaluation Report, the next step will be to proceed with an independent evaluation of the drug court programs. This process will ensure that Arkansas continues to follow best practice standards in accordance with the National Association of Drug Court Professionals.<sup>22</sup>
- Budget cuts reduced the treatment funding for drug court participants to $500,000 for 2013, compared to $1.5 million and $3 million in previous years. This amount is disbursed among all drug courts statewide. The legislature also declined to provide any funding for new drug court programs. They did approve five more locations for new drug court programs (2011), but until revenue is established to fund these programs, growth remains on hold.
